...The thing that worries me the most is when we will go back to school. Luckily in week eight my Mummy and Daddy had to go to work so me and my sister went to school on the first of June. It was more like daycare than school but that is ok as long as I can see my friends. At school, we do spend lots of time outside so we can waste some energy and we do lots of crafts. I don't know what it will be like in the future but hopefully something good for once.

...What are your hopes?

I hope that I can give them a big cuddle everyday when lockdown is done. I hope that this horrible bug that makes people poorly will go away as well because some people have had family that are poorly and it's really sad. Imogen

...I really hope that soon I can go back to school as I miss my teachers and friends and that we can see our family properly so we can hug each other.

I don't really have any fears as even though we have been stuck indoors for so long I have enjoyed spending time with my mum, dad, brothers and sister.

I do wonder what school life will be like when we go back?!

...Lockdown has not been all that bad though – I've spent more time with my Daddy as he was working at home for a few weeks. I have got to be a lot more creative and find out new things about myself and found new ways to relax. I've also been able to explore more of our local area and the pretty downs. I even left chalk messages to my friend Seren to find on her daily walks. Jasmine

...I had a lockdown Bowling Party which everyone took part by playing bowling games at home and sent my mummy the results and the winner got a virtual certificate! At the end everyone joined in a video call and sang me happy birthday I loved that.

I have good days and sad days but I know I will see everyone again soon. George

Once upon a time the world stayed apart... We have been in our homes because we need to stay safe. We have had lots of fun family time at home. We have had our own disco, made our own dens and spa night. We planted seeds at the beginning of lock down and watched them grow. Poppy

...I hope lockdown will end very soon because I want to eat a McDonalds burger and fries so bad! When lockdown ends I'm going to McDonalds immediately to eat my favourite burger and some fries. It's going to taste so good!
